

A Love for Others

Cryptograph Puzzle

"Oh MY! Planetary system archaeologists have been conducting research in the Corellian System, and they've uncovered a most intriguing message from a Christian settlement on the planet Tralus. I should inform you that it appears to be written in a coded format—fortunately, we do possess the key and have provided a decode sample with "HELLO WORLD". Regrettably, our decoding bot is currently non-functional, and we are in rather desperate need of your assistance. If you would be so kind, please deliver this message to your outreach chairman at once. I do hope everything proceeds smoothly—these situations can become quite distressing!"

= HELLO WORLD
