Somewhere within this innocent-looking word search lies a message—one meant to edify, to encourage, perhaps even to strengthen the soul. But Dr. Dufus has other ideas. He has hidden that message among the letters, challenging you to find it before it disappears into the shadows. Begin by finding every word in the list. They may run in any direction. But when every word has been found, a final mystery remains. Starting in the upper-left corner and going across, copy down every letter that has been left unused.

One by one, they will reveal the message. A message that was meant for you.
