Well, now just hold on a minute! Dag-nab it! Some no-good prankster has messed up the church sign! He's pulled off a bunch of letters, and they've fallen straight down, but not in any particular order. Now that's just not right! I'd take care of it myself, but Goober's out of town, and I've got cell block watch. So we're counting on you to help us out! Now, don't get flustered. Figure out the single-letter columns first, then work on the short words. Try different letters until you get some sensible words. When you're finished, report to the pastor. We need to nip this thing in the bud! Something should be done, and done right away!
