“It appears Lady Wordsearch has temporarily abandoned her post in pursuit of higher literary matters at a grand Librarian Conference. Before departing, she insisted that you not neglect your book report assignments. The rules for the wordsearch remain unchanged: the hidden words may travel left to right, top to bottom, or diagonally toward the northeast or southeast. Meanwhile, that rival class across the hall has issued a challenge to see who can finish first. Upon hearing this, she adjusted her spectacles, folded her arms, and declared only, ‘HUMPH!’”
