The King Who Reigns Fallen Phrases Puzzle

Our third assistant Landscaping Attaché from the consulate in Tishmidalandmark found this paper in a hidden message drop. Unfortunately, the letters had been initially glued on and when the paper was drenched by rain, some slid out of their cells, straight down. Our analysts are detained due to a last-minute Sunday School Junior Choir Christmas practice. So, we need your help. Go for columns where only one letter is missing. Then work on two or three letter blanks, finding letters that make sense. Forward your results to the chairman of the Christmas Candy Committee.
