Two separate operatives in Laoslisrab slipped these two parts of a secret message to our social attaché somewhere near the embassy. The top one is a partial key for the bottom message. Match up the letter under the blanks with the letter in the key to get the letter for the message. I hope you can figure it out, despite the missing letters in the key. Our decryption crew is at VBS this week so you'll have to do the job. Pass the final results to your youth minister to give to the teens. They need advice on love!
